Addressees should draw on following guidance in reply to questions

re current status U.S. policy on Cuban shipping:

1. U.S.G. gratified that free world governments and ship owners have been increasingly cooperative in restricting use of ships in trade with Cuba, particularly in last weeks. ~~XXXXXXXXXX~~

~~re basic U.S. policy~~

2. U.S. Four-Point Program

(a) Orders embodying four points on shipping to Cuba discussed in Ref (a) were ready to be promulgated when missile build-up in Cuba was discovered. While broader action was being considered and taken, it was thought inappropriate to issue the orders.

(b) Number one priority now is to work out implementation of Khrushchev promise to dismantle and remove offensive missile sites in Cuba. It does not seem desirable just now to inject a new element into that situation such as would be represented by the shipping orders.
